

CREST OF FLOOD RESULTING FROM THREE INCHES RAINFALL REACHED

COMES NEAR BEING REPETITION OF 1913

Grave Concern Caused This Morning
by Rapid Rise of Flatrock
After Fall During Night

NO GREAT AMOUNT OF DAMAGE

Several Bridges Threaten to go Out,
But so Far Have Remained Intact—Many Leave Homes

The crest of the flood that hit
Rushville and Rush county following a rainfall of over three inches was believed to have been reached this afternoon. The rain which started last Thursday afternoon continued until this morning with only a few hours interruption. The result came near being a repetition of the flood of March 1913.

Flat Rock and all the small streams in the county were out of their banks. The river here in Rushville started rising Saturday night and it was not long until all of the lowlands were under water. For a time last night the river showed a slight falling, but this morning the water again showed signs of doing a damage similar to that three years ago.
The rise of the river this morning between the hours of seven and noon was such as to cause grave concern.
East Second street and East
First street were under water this afternoon, but the river was gradually lowering.

With colder weather promised, and
the rainfall stopped, the flood had apparently spent its force. There was no great amount of damage done, excepting to merchants. There was hardly a cellar in the business section that was not flooded and many of the merchants lost goods that were stored in the basements. The Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company was operating cars this afternoon. Early this morning it was feared that the bridge over Flatrock, east of the city would go out. The same was true of the C. I. & W. bridge. The traction company also feared for the bridge over Blue river at Morristown, but late today the bridge still remained in place.

The smaller streams of the county caused considerable damage. One rural route carrier was unable to get all the way over his route.

While the flood was bad enough it did not come close to reaching the high marks of the disastrous flood of March 1913. This was true not only in this city, but in all parts of the county in the neighborhood of Raleigh and Nipp's mill the river lacked two feet of reaching the mark of 1913.

In the southern part of the county
the water was eight feet lower than in 1913. At Milroy and other southern parts of the county some damage was reported from the washing away
of fences, but no live stock was lost.
At the home of William Roth, near Moscow, the river arose to the first floor of his barn. He succeeded in getting the live stock to the second floor.

The greatest damage in Rushville
was caused by back water in the sewer system. The river was so high that the water would not run from
the sewer and practically every basement in the business district was flooded. The water started

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Fall Creek waters today flooded the home of A. J. Jarrett of Glen Valley, south of here. He swam to shore and got a boat with which to rescue Mrs.
Jarrett and their two children, aged eighteen months and one month. The younger one was found smothered to death when they landed.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Colder weather with general ceasing of rains over practically all of Indiana
today offered the only hopeful
phase of a serious flood situation.

Practically all of the rivers and streams were out of their banks and gradually rising. Thousands of families were fleeing to higher grounds.
Heavy rains during the night at many points caused the water to continue rising steadily today.

At only one point, Muncie, were the waters falling. Muncie reported the White river falling at the rate of one inch an hour.

The most serious condition reported was near Brazil where waters were higher than in 1913. The El river has flooded bottoms over two miles wide there. Traffic on the C.
& E. I. were stopped by water flowing over the track. Bowling Green, Pol-land and Clay City were cut off by the flood.

In this county it was predicted that a rise of a few more inches levies would be submerged, causing a general flood and experts declared there is enough water in sight to cause a rise of at least 1.5 feet and possibly two feet. Hundreds of families moved from Fall Creek lowlands and the city kept scores of men working on weak levies.

At Peru the Wabash was rising
today at a rate of two and three inches an hour. The Mississinewa, where it empties into the Wabash,
was shooting out clear across the later stream as it did during the disastrous 1913 flood, dashing against the opposite bank. One foot more and the light plant will be flooded, throwing Peru in darkness.

At Huntington the Little River
and Wabash were higher than at any time since 1913 and still rising one inch an hour.

At Wabash the Wabash river was 18 inches higher today than at any time since 1913 and was rising three inches an hour. A Big Four bridge six miles north of there
went out, stopping traffic.

Terre Haute reported that the traction line to Paris, Ill., was at places under nine feet of water and
that passengers who transferred had to walk a mile. Taylorville people were moving out. The worst flood in years was expected at Terre Haute.

Berlin, Jan. 31. (By Wireless)—An effective blockade of Germany is impossible, Admiral Von Holtzendorff,
chief of the German admiralty staff
declared today in an exclusive statement to the United Press.

England, he said, could in no circumstances stop commerce in the Baltic between Sweden and Denmark and Germany. For weeks, he pointed out, no British submarine has had any success in the Baltic. The Russian fleet is frozen in the harbors.

The only effect of a blockade by the allies he stated would be upon the women and children of Germany.
He hinted strongly that Germany is prepared for an action by Great Britain.

FARMER DEAD AND WIFE MAY NOT LIVE

Samuel Reeves Expires From Effects of Escaping Gas Fumes And Mrs. Reeves May Die

FORMERLY LIVED IN CENTER

Knightstown, Ind., Jan. 31.—
Samuel Reeves, 60 years old, is dead
and his wife is in a critical condition as a result of escaping gas fumes from a base burner. When they failed to arise neighbors became alarmed and entered the house Sunday morning at nine o'clock and made the discovery. Mrs. Reeves was found on the floor, leading to the belief that she attempted to reach the door when overcome. She was still unconscious at a late hour
today.

Samuel Reeves was formerly a farmer of the Center neighborhood.
Together with his wife he moved to Knightstown about a year ago. He was widely known in Rush county.

Mrs. Ed Bell, who recently underwent an operation at the Sexton hospital was able to be removed to the home of her mother, Mrs. J. B.
McCarty in West Tenth street today.

TO GO BEFORE COUNTY BOARD

Institute at Orange Decides to Send
Five Representatives to Fayette County Commissioners.

WANT HIGHWAY IMPROVED

Action Taken Following Address by
Oliver Cline—Corn Show a Big Feature.

The joint institute of Noble township, Rush county and Orange township, Fayette county, held in Orange last Saturday was believed to have been the most successful ever held by this association. Following an address by Oliver Cline of Huntington on the subject "Good Roads and their Maintenance" a committee was appointed to wait upon the board of commissioners of Fayette county to see if the road between Orange and Glenwood could not be improved permanently.

A lengthy discussion followed the address and the institute took a decided stand on the good roads ideas.
The committee of five will visit the Fayette county commissioners at an early date.

The address of the day were delivered by Mrs. Eva Rohbok of Wabash and Mr. Cline. At the morning session Mrs. Rohbok spoke on "Character Building" and in the afternoon on the subject "Real Things in Life." At the morning session Mr. Cline spoke on the subject "Farm Life."

The new officers elected were as follows: John Fielding, president;
Marshall DeArmond, vice-president;
Vern Dunn, secretary and Errel Bever, treasurer. The attendance numbered 225, which was considered
very good, because of the condition of the roads.

One of the big features of the institute was the corn show and domestic science exhibits. There were eight entries in the white corn class, the first prize being awarded to
Frank Bever and the second Cory Young. The yellow corn class attracted fourteen entries and first prize was won by Frank Bever. The contest for second place resulted in a tie between Harry Arnold and B.
Hartman. Third prize went to Jesse Murphy. There were three entries in the class for any color corn and
was won by Marshall De Armond with J. D. Henry, second and J. T.
Reed, third.

In the single ear event there were fifteen entries and the event was won by Kenneth Morris.

In the domestic science department
Miss Nellie McClanahan was awarded first prize for the best hem-stitched towel. Miss Mary McClanahan was second and Miss Mildred Utter was third. Miss Helen Houchens was given first prize for the best white cake.

ANOTHER FLOOD PAPER.

The Daily Republican consid-

furnish its subscribers with a newspaper today, working as
the newspaper force did under serious handicap caused by the flood. Due to water continually seeping into the basement, it was impossible to print the regular newspaper on the regular newspaper press. Most of the advertising was dispensed
with in order to furnish subscribers the usual run of the day's news. Thanks to the valiant efforts of volunteer helpers, the Republican company's newspaper stock was not damaged as badly as it might otherwise have been.

DIVIDE COUNTY FOR PRIMARY

Election Commissioners Apportionment of Delegates For State Conventions

BULL MOOSE GET ONLY FIVE

Necessary to Combine Several Townships in Order to Meet Requirements of Law

At a meeting this morning of the primary election commissioners, the apportionment of the delegates of the three parties to their respective state conventions was made. Under the apportionment the Republicans are entitled to twelve delegates; the Democrats to 11 delegates and the Progressives to five delegates.

The apportionment of the Republican delegates to the state convention is based on the vote for secretary of state at the last election, each precinct being entitled to one delegate for every 200 votes cast.
The Democratic apportionment is taken from the vote for United States senator. It was necessary to join some of the townships together
and give them a joint-delegate in order to conform with the law. Because of the small Progressive vote in Rush county this party's delegation is badly split, as many as four townships getting only one delegate.

The Republican apportionment is as follows: Ripley, one delegate; Center and Washington, one delegate;
Posey and Jackson, one delegate;
Union and precinct No. 1 of Noble,
one delegate; Precinct No. 2 of Noble and Richland, one delegate; Rushville, five delegates; Walker and Orange, one delegate; Anderson, one delegate.

The Democratic delegation will be made up as follows: Ripley and Jackson, one delegate; Walker, one delegate; Walker, one delegate;
Washington, one delegate; Union and Noble, one delegate; Richland and precinct No. 2 of Anderson, one delegate; Orange and precinct No. 1 of Anderson, one delegate; Posey, one delegate, and Rushville, three delegates.

The Progressive apportionment is as follows: Ripley, Center and
Washington, one delegate; Posey,
Orange and Anderson, one delegate;
Union, Jackson, Noble and Walker,
one delegate, and Rushville, two delegates.

New Low Record

For Christmas your Uncle Samuel received from Mr. Underwood's near-free-trade tariff customs revenues in the sum of $2,685,866. This was on imports to the value of $30,799,642, or an average rate of duty for that week of 8.7 per cent. These are on imports entered at the thirteen principal customs districts of the United States. His New Years gift for the week ending January 1, 1916 was $2,825,002 of customs revenues on $37,881,835 worth of imports, or an average rate of duty for the week of 7.46 per cent, the lowest weekly average rate of duty in our trade history. For the week ended January 8, 1916 there entered these same thirteen customs districts imports to the value of $38,659,052 on which customs revenue was collected in the sum of $3,406,456 or an average rate of duty for the week of 8.8 per cent. This marked a new high record on weekly imports.

The statements of Democrats that imports have materially decreased is false. Temporarily curtailed at the outbreak of the war, they are now coming in as never before, but they are imports on the free list, which would have paid goodly revenues had they been subjected to Republican rates of duty. If they can not get adequate revenues at the ports of the country to help run the Government, the deficit must be made up by levying direct internal taxes. Think of this when the fiscal policy of the present Administration stings you, and consider whether you prefer the protective tariff policy of the Republicans—which does not increase the cost of living, which does encourage industry, benefits labor and pays the revenues of the Government—or the Democratic policy of near-free-trade, which does nothing for this country but subject the people to a swarm of vexatious "horse-fly" taxes.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Words of Encouragement to Childless Women.

Motherhood is woman's natural destiny, but many women are denied the happiness of children simply because of some curable derangement.

Among the many triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its marvelous power to overcome such derangements, as evidenced by the following letter:—

Worcester, Mass.—"I suffered from female ills, and was advised to have an operation, but a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and who has six children, told me to try it. It has helped me so much that I am now well and have a baby boy who is the picture of health, and I thank the Vegetable Compound for my restoration to health."

Mrs. BERT GARVEY, 20 Hacker St., Worcester, Mass.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

LACK OF FAITH CAUSED FAILURE

Henry Ford's Peace Mission Failed Down Because he Did Not Have Members With Him

DID NOT EVEN "MAKE A DENT"

Mme. Schwimmer is Accused of Deceiving Him—Failed to Stick to Original Idea

By CHAS. P. STEWART
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

The Hague, Jan. 15.—(By Mail) Henry Ford's peace mission failed for lack of "faith." According to his own statement faith was Ford's sole stock when he started. He had enough and those who accompanied him, with a few exceptions appear to have had but little.

These of the party who really wished the expedition well, were so bitterly hated that an effort was made to maroon a number of them at the first European port touched. Ford's plan, as nearly as it is possible to put so intangible a thing on paper, was to give the warring nations mental science treatment. Ford himself at the outset had unbounded faith in his ability. Despite the statement attributed to him that he intended to "get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas," he did not count on immediately ending the war.

What Ford did believe was that he could "make a dent" by gathering about him a whole ship's company, uniting the members' minds on one "big thought of peace" and continually adding to the volume and intensity of this thought as he and his crusaders traveled from neutral country to neutral country, on the edge of the zone of war, or even in the zone itself.

Whether this plan would have succeeded under favorable circumstances can't be stated, because the peace delegates failed to concentrate on thoughts of peace. The Oscar II's voyage from New York to Christiania was horrible, not so much because of the incessant quarreling as on account of the atmosphere of suspicion and malice after the first day or two out.

Ford speedily took to his cabin and for more than half the trip was hardly seen by any but his closest advisors. He was ill, it was stated. The nature of the illness never was made clear. Several of the correspondents whom the expedition's managing committee was trying to separate from the party did see the patient for a few minutes the night before the Oscar II's arrival at Christiania. It is true that he looked like a sick man then, but his malady seemed rather of the spirit than the body.

Ford moved and spoke like a person in a semi-trance. He seemed almost completely broken. Early in the voyage he declared that squabbling among the peace delegates was a small matter, that disagreements were to be expected in any community, and that when the party landed at Christiania these troubles would quickly disappear. On this night however, his manner suggested that he realized the fundamental weakness of his organization—that he had lost hope.

While Ford admitted that he based his early hopes only on faith, Mme. Rosika Schwimmer declared she had written assurances from officials of all the neutral European governments that they would welcome such an effort as the one undertaken by Ford and from men in high positions at the chancelleries of certain of the warring nations "on both sides" that they were at least not unfriendly to the plan. The second day of the party's stay in Christiania Premier Knudsen of Norway denied the truth of her statement. Numerous cables received in Christiania from Mme. Schwimmer addressed to peace organizations and discussing arrangements for the Ford party's reception and for cooperation in peace work, still lay in the Christiania telegraph office because there were no such organizations to deliver them to. Those who opposed Mme. Schwimmer assert that she had thus tried to deceive

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

Ford concerning the strength of peace sentiment in Scandinavia.

Mme. Schwimmer boasted that she had a "dossier" of every person on the ship and that not a word was said which she did not know of almost immediately. There were many indications that this was no idle boast. In throwing the expedition upon the newspaper correspondents' mercy at Stockholm, the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aeked admitted that the press representatives had many legitimate grievances but insisted his own grounds for complaint were even better than theirs. He had made heavy financial sacrifices to accompany the expedition, he said, and had been assured he was to have considerable voice in directing its policies. He had never, he declared, seen Ford for more than ten minutes at a time and had had practically no influence.

Herman Bernstein, the New York Jewish editor, gave up his peace delegateship at Christiania and continued the journey merely as a chronicler, at his own expense. Mrs. Inez Millholland Boissevain resigned from the party at Stockholm because she felt, she said, all attempts at democratic control of the party had been abandoned. Governor Manna of North Dakota, though professing to have left the expedition at Christiania for personal reasons, said confidentially that it would cost him thousands of dollars to explain to his constituents his connection with such a party of "nuts."

Judge Ben Lindsey and his wife succeeded in interesting Ford, early in the voyage, in a plan for finding homes for European war orphans. The management, then controlled by Peace Secretary Louis P. Lochner and Mme. Schwimmer, served notice shortly after Ford's departure for home, that the steering committee would repudiate any subsidiary movement which did not have the committee's approval. Such approval was refused the Lindseys, Dean S. S. Marquis of Detroit, Ford's close personal friend, was not on good terms with Mme. Schwimmer nor Lochner. It was the general impression that his influence was responsible for detaching Ford from the party. S. S. McClure was denounced by the management and for his part spoke of the expedition's management in terms of contempt. Differences were not forgotten when the party landed. The various splits widened. They were not the result merely of divergent views. They were due to petty rivalries for control of the expedition, to individual ambitions and to the failure of the greater number of the delegates to grasp the bigness of the Ford idea. Henry Ford himself did not stick to his own idea.

If the Ford expedition had failed with dignity it would have not been a failure. It would have been the highest spot in the history of altruistic endeavor since the crucifixion. Nobody can appreciate what actually happened who has not actually been with the expedition from the first.

No peace delegate is bold enough to deny that the expedition has been a succession of errors but a few still are hopeful enough to profess that these errors may yet be retrieved. At present the expedition is led by Gaston Plantiff, Ford's personal representative, a fat, jolly, red-faced general salesman of automobiles who knows all about Broadway but admits he hasn't the remotest idea of any peace plan's meaning but was left by "the old man" to do his best and means to do it—whatever it is.

BEGIN FIGHT TO RETAIN CONTROL

Gould Interests Have Gigantic Task Before Them to Keep Hold of Texas & Pacific

SUIT FOR A RECEIVERSHIP

Complaint Alleges Income Was Used For Improvements Rather Than to Pay Interest

(By United Press.)

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 31.—The Gould interests today began their battle to retain control of the Texas & Pacific railroad. The receivership asked by P. F. Bush, receiver for the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railroad, is expected to be one of the most hotly contested legal fights in corporation annals. The petition was filed Dec. 27 and the hearing was to begin today before Federal Judge Meek. The petition, entered by the Bankers' Trust company of New York, alleges that the interest on $85,000,000 in second mortgage bonds, issued in 1888, has been in default since 1907.

The total interest and principal in default is said to amount to $14,000,000. The petitioner asks an accounting of the earnings and property of the railroad, applicable to the payment of the bonds. The complaint alleges that for a number of years the income from operation, instead of being applied to payment of interest on the bonds, was used for improvements, betterments and other purposes. The petition also includes the New Orleans Railway company, a Texas & Pacific property in Louisiana.

The Iron Mountain is the owner, subject to pledge, of more than $23,000,000 of the $25,000,000 bonds issued under the mortgage. The business war between the Goulds and certain antagonistic interests are said already to have been responsible for the International & Great Northern and the Missouri Pacific receiverships. An agreement as to the Texas & Pacific property failed. George J. Gould is president of the Texas & Pacific, which has been controlled by the Gould family since the days of Jay Gould.

It operates under a federal charter granted March 3, 1871. The company was reorganized without foreclosure in 1888. Recent figures show the Missouri Pacific, also in the hands of a receiver, and allied lines, owned $6,555,000 of the Texas & Pacific's outstanding shares.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

HE IS GIVEN FREE PASSAGE

Hull, Eng., Jan. 31.—The Rev. William Henry Hudson, a temperance lecturer, arriving here on the Wilson liner Marengo, claims to have walked from San Francisco to New York to embark for England.

The British authorities in New York, according to Hudson, obtained passage for himself and forty other Britishers on a liner for Brest. Arriving they were turned back to New York by French authorities because they lacked passports. Hudson says he reembarked from New York on the Marengo and will do temperance work in the British army. His journey, he claims, covered nine thousand miles by land. In Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Dayton, Columbus, Philadelphia and New York, Hudson declares he met many Britishers anxious to go home and fight but without the means to do so.

JAMES BOYS LIKELY TURN OVER IN GRAVE

Revival of Stage Coach and Train Robberies Causes Western Constables to Use Autos.

AND ARMED CARS AT THAT

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 31.—Jesse James and all that motley crew of picturesque co-bandits who lies buried in scattered mounds throughout the wild west must be turning over and over in their graves since the 1913-'14-'15 revival of stagecoach and express robberies has developed along such scientific, efficient and up-to-date lines. County officers in Oklahoma are going to employ armored motor cars in hunting bank robbers and train bandits.

There has been an unusual number of these holdups this winter and the offenders usually escaped because their horse were superior to those ridden by the officers. Orders have been placed with a local firm a number of special steel bodies for motor chassis. The sides are several inches higher than those of the ordinary body and are to be pierced by rifle loopholes. Behind the windshield is to be a steel plate that can be raised or lowered.

* GET THE NEEDLE! HE SAYS * GOLD FISH HAVE BRAINS. *

(By United Press.)

Marion, O., Jan. 31.—Edwin P. Haughton, local naturalist scientist, today informed the world that goldfish have brains. Haughton owns an aquarium of trained goldfish which he says he has educated from a naturally low mentality to a high state of intellectuality, thereby proving that goldfish have brains if one just takes the trouble to develop em'. Haughton has trained his goldfish to answer the dinner bell. When he rings, the fish dart to the surface, their mouth wide open, for their daily feed. Haughton's aquarium is made of concrete, 12 feet in diameter and several feet in depth. In the course of a long period of instruction, Haughton says, the fish were taught to come to the surface in summer and to a hole in the ice in winter, by the ringing of a tiny bell. This is one of many evidences of mentality that Haughton says the fishes show.

Sleeveless nighties, ankle short
Are the new alluring sort;
In them Sue's so sweet a sight
'Tis a shame to douse the light.

New York, Jan. 29.—The newest nighties are bound to be a source of vexation to those unfortunates whose vaccinations are thus laid bare either by the lack of sleeve or the lack of length. But who can deny that they are adorable? It takes little material but lots of art to evolve them and a little nerve and lots of charm to wear 'em. About the only way you can tell a nightie from a chemise these days and nights is by inches. The chemise is cut just above the knee and the nightie just below it. It is true that most of the nighties actually blush for their own shortcomings and this beautiful blush pink dyes them whether they be of sheer batiste crepe de chine or the new wash satin. It takes lots of sibilants to describe them and but little else—sheer, short, sleeveless and simple will do the work and there you have it. Just to be consistently short in every respect the new nighties are also short waisted and the empire line is shown on all the smartest models. Narrow lace edgings outlining the armholes and low neck line; briar stitching in pink or blue, touches of smocking or embroidery in pink or blue are all the ornamentations permissible on these chaste little sleeping garments of the moment. They must be highly hygienic, allowing as they do for so much fresh air, but one shudders to think how soon these ducks of nighties will become an extinct species along with the Do Do Bird and other rara avis if they keep on dwindling away to nothing in this reckless way they have begun. As for caps to top the dishevelled matutinal locks of milady fair, they are getting reckless too. Time was when a boudoir cap meant a coquettish little morsel of ribbon and lace and net, or at most, pastel tinted bits of chiffon or crepe de chine. Nowadays one must be coiffed like a gypsy or one of the Russian ballet in vivid hued silks twisted in turban shapes, or weird and oriental head dresses. One cunning model that turns you into a snow maid or a fluffy white kitten is made of white wash satin gathered up into a rosette on top of the head and topped with a fluffy ball of swansdown. Fluffs of swansdown alternating with a tiny French ribbon roses frame the face. These swansdown trimmed caps are also charming when combined with satin of delicate tints and are verily far more fascinating when up on my lady's head than when down on the swan's.

IS LEADING WOMAN GROWER OF ORANGES

Miss Susie Stocksclaeder of San Bernardino, Cal., Soon Acquires. Properly Worth $15,000.

STARTED WITH ONLY 5 ACRES

(By United Press.)

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 31.—Miss Susie Stocksclaeder, formerly of Rochester, N. Y., who wears overalls while at work is generally regarded here as the champion woman orange grower of America. She is 22 years old. A few years ago she started ranching with her five acres and nothing worth mentioning growing on it, but herself. Today that land and other acreage she acquired is producing a nursery and fruit stock worth $15,000 a year. She has 35,000 budded trees. Five thousand of them are citrus trees, ready for this spring's market. Ten thousand more of them are growing for a later market. When any of the mere men farmers are at a loss for information they go and ask "Susie." If they do what she says, usually they make money by it, they say. In the groves the girl wears overalls and a blue shirt, and does as strenuous manual labor as any "hand" on the place.

GEN. GORGAS WILL SPEAK

Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—Dr. J. N. Hurty, president of the Indiana Sanitary and Water Supply association, said today he believed a record attendance would greet the opening of the four day sessions of the association beginning February 3. The presence of Surgeon General William C. Gorgas, U. S. A., and surgeon General Rupert Blue, of United States public health service alone would draw persons from all parts of the state. General Gorgas, who by his sanitary work in the Panama zone made possible the Panama canal, will relate his story of the fight against disease in the zone.

MANY CHILDREN WERE CARED FOR

State Board of Charities Put in Busy Year, According to Annual Report Just Made

AGENCIES COST $15,679.41

Ninety-Six Per Cent of Children Placed in Homes Are Doing Well or Fairly Well

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 31.—During the past twelve months agents of the board of state charities found homes in Indiana for 215 dependent children and learned through visits that 96.1 per cent of the children in homes were doing well or fairly well.

In a portion of the forthcoming annual report of the board made public today it was shown that 4,052 children were visited during the year and that of these 3,895 were found living in good surroundings and receiving proper care. The remaining 157 or 3.9 per cent, were found in unsatisfactory condition, says the report, "and proper action was taken in each case looking to the return of the child to the agency responsible for it."

Thirty-two other visits were made to addresses given without finding the children reported, says the report.

The field work of the department and its cost, including salaries of agents, amounted to $11,691.52 and the traveling expenses of children placed by agents amounted to $691.53, or a total cost of $12,383.05 for the field work of the agency. The total expenses of the state agency to $15,679.41.

Agents made 224 visits to various orphan asylums, five visits to county poor asylums and 234 visits to county officials. One hundred and eighty-three children formerly placed were transferred to other homes making a total of 398 placements and replacements. One hundred and eleven children were returned to counties.

SHOULD WEAR BIG SHOES

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—Tight shoes make bad tempers, according to a bulletin issued by the Young Woman's Christian Assn., here. An investigation by the employment bureau of the organization revealed that many girls lost their jobs because they got "peevish" at their employers, all on account of pinching boots jangling their nerves. The first requirement of a girl seeking work through the Y. W. C. A. here now is—wear big shoes.

Another Wonderful Recovery From Kidney Trouble

For nearly nine years I was a great sufferer from what my doctors said was Kidney trouble and my blood was out of order; enduring all that time excruciating pain in my back and across my bowels. I was drawn down so that I could only walk with my hands on my knees. My doctor said he could do nothing for me. I tried many kinds of medicine, but all to no avail. A friend told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and as I had tried everything else that I heard of, I bought a bottle of Swamp-Root and it did wonders for me. I prize it higher than any other medicine and I shall recommend it to my friends. I wish to add right here that after using Swamp-Root for two months I began to straighten up and am now sound and well, and feel like I might live a long time yet to tell what your medicine has done for me.

PREPARING FOR ELECTROCUTION

State Prison Officials Going Ahead With Arrangements For Execution of Kelly Robinson

WILL TAKE PLACE TOMORROW

Found Guilty of Killing John Roe—Asked to Borrow a Nickel And Killing Resulted

(By United Press.)

Michigan City, Jan. 31.—Preparations were going forward at the state prison here today for the electrocution soon after midnight tonight of Kelly Robinson, negro murdered sentenced in the Marion county criminal court.

Robinson was found guilty of murdering John F. Roe, a farmer living northeast of Indianapolis. The state's allegation was that Robinson called Roe to the door of the latter's home and asked for the loan of a nickel. When Roe refused to give him the money, Robinson shot and killed Roe.

The negro was the principal figure in a spectacular attempt to escape at Peru, Ind., while officers were taking him to the prison here. Robinson, though handcuffed, jumped head first through the window of the slowly moving train at Kokomo Junction. He was bruised by the fall and this, together with the handcuffs, handicapped him and he was easily captured.

Robinson was to have gone to the chair in August but the state supreme court granted a stay of execution until tomorrow.

At the murder trial in Indianapolis Robinson sought to prove an alibi. Mrs. Roe testified that she recognized Robinson as the man seen at her home the night Roe was killed. Roe, after being shot, is said to have uttered Robinson's name. Robinson formerly worked at a farm adjoining Roe's place.

backing up in the cellars at seven o'clock Sunday morning and all day yesterday pumps were kept going. It was only through hard work that the Dail Republican succeeded in saving a large supply of paper. The basement was freed from water at one time Sunday afternoon and then a new break occurred and the basement was soon flooded again. The work continued all night and was kept up today.

The Peoples National bank also had trouble with the water. The fires in the furnace were extinguished and pumps were kept going all day. The power plant supply heat for the court house was put out of commission. The water backed up to the furnace of the power plant.

By five o'clock Sunday afternoon many residents in South Harrison street and other streets near the river had moved their household goods. People residing in East Second street and Julian street, next to the race bank prepared to move out on a minute's notice. The Pinnell-Tompkins lumber company was unable to operate today. The floors of the company were under water.

The downpour of rain ceased about four o'clock Sunday afternoon and this tended to encourage the people whose homes were in danger. The rain, however started again Sunday night and continued until past midnight. One of the peculiar features was that at one stage the water went down instead of rising. A half-inch drop was recorded at midnight and this despite the fact that it was raining exceedingly hard.

Hodges branch was on a rampage similar to the river, but no damage was done in the northwestern part of the city. The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction line's tracks in West Seventh street were under water Sunday morning, but the water receded by afternoon. The water

FOR BRONCHITIS, PAINFUL COUGH, WHOOPING COUGH AND COLDS

Cheapest Remedy Made at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 Cents

When in need of a remedy for the treatment of Bronchial Affections, such as Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Stabborn Coughs, Colds or Hoarseness, don't simply ask the druggist for a "Cough Medicine" but get the best. Tell him to give you Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant, instead of being induced into buying something else purely on the strength of some testimonials or the exaggerated claims of the manufacturer. The same "Money Back," guarantee goes with every bottle of this remedy sold by Fox Bros. as does with Dr. Schiffmann's famous Asthmador and your money will be returned, if it does not give perfect satisfaction; in fact even more, if it is not found the best remedy ever used for these affections. In buying this new remedy, besides securing the guarantee these druggists give, it will likewise be found the most economical to use, for the reason that one bottle (50 cents' worth) makes a full pint (128 teaspoonful) of the most excellent cough medicine, after being mixed at home with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water. The bottle will probably, therefore, be sufficient for a whole family's supply the entire winter, while the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of medicine would cost between $2 and $3. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants, contains absolutely no chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic or injurious drugs as do most cough remedies, and it can therefore be given to children with perfect safety. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. Absolutely no risk whatever in buying this remedy under the above positive guarantee. R. J. Schiffmann, Prop., St. Paul, Minn.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Rushville Citizens Show a Way

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Rushville citizen says:

Mrs. Lizzie Borem, 840 W. 9th street, Rushville, says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. The kidney secretions were very annoying and the trouble kept getting worse. The kidney secretions were very painful in passage and scanty. Doctors said it was gravel, but none of them ever did me any good. A short time ago I heard of how someone else was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wolcott's Drug Store. They helped me and I kept on using them. I have taken four boxes so far and the pain has left and I feel a great deal better. I believe that Doan's Kidney Pills will cure me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Borem had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A CORRECTION.

In the account of the entertainment of Dr. Gilbert's class which was given at the home of Mrs. Will Abercrombie on Friday afternoon, the names of the October division which were also hostesses were unintentionally omitted. They included Mrs. Charles Dale, Miss Rue Whitton, Mrs. Lenore Blackledge, Mrs. Walter Duke, Mrs. Edna Dagler, Mrs. Louis Lambert, Mrs. Vincent Young, Mrs. Ida Wilkinson, Mrs. Ol Walton, and Mrs. Charles Caldwell.

DINNER PARTY.

Red carnations were the bright decorations which so tastefully adorned the table yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Amos of North Maple street entertained a congenial company of friends at a dinner party. A huge bouquet of these gay flowers arranged with dainty ferns, characterized the center of the table which was the scene for the merry gathering. Several delicious courses were served to the following guests Mr. and Mrs. Dora Sample of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Dora Amos of Indianapolis, who spent the weekend with friends here.

HONORING MESSRS YOUNG.

A continuation of the festivities in honor of the birthday of George and Sam Young, was the dinner given yesterday by Mrs. Sam Young at her home at noon. Pink and white was the dainty color scheme carried out with a graceful bouquet of these pretty flowers in the center of the table. In this delightful setting an elegant dinner was served, justly doing honor to the hostess, as well as the guests of honor. The social afternoon which followed brought to a close a happy day for the guests which were Mr. and Mrs. George Young, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moore, and Guy McBride of Mays.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

A merry group of girls assembled yesterday in response to the invitations given out by Mrs. George Craig, who entertained at dinner complimentary to the eighteenth birthday of her daughter, Naomi. The pretty bevy of girls completed an effective picture as they gathered about the bedecked table, the center of which was embellished with a huge floral design of narcissuses, banked up with ferns, that twined out upon the white linen. Four courses composed the delicious dinners, the appointments of which were charming. Those participating in the festive occasion were the Misses Mary Parrish, Axie Retherford, Madolain Conning, Sylvia Mullins, Mildred Lore, Dorothy Wright, and Effalee Frazier.

HONORING MISS WAGONER.

Miss Florence Wagoner, who taught in the high school here six years ago and after having taught in Oregon and Covington, Ky., is back renewing old friendships, was the agreeable excuse for a delightful dinner party given by Miss Anna Bohannon Saturday evening. The crowd enjoyed a three course dinner at the Scanlan House followed by a pleasant social evening at the home of Mrs. A. L. Aldridge. Hot chocolate was served and a general good time was enjoyed. The members of the Shakespeare Club, which is still a flourishing organization, as it stood during Miss Wagoner's residence here were the guests, which included the Misses Katharine Petry, Lois Fritter, Nora Sleeth, Edith Caldwell, Elsie Bohannon, and Mrs. Earl Moore. Mrs. A. L. Aldridge was an invited guest.

CENTURY CLASS PARTY.

From all indications, the party which is to be given by the members of the Century class of the Christian church on Friday evening, will be a success from every standpoint. One of the purposes of the function is to enlarge the class and every member is to invite a prospective member, for the class. Ample entertainment has been planned for the entire evening. Reports for the 1915 will be given, and an old-fashioned debate which promises to be a rare amusement will be given on the subject "Resolved that Sunday School will be more popular during the coming season than motoring on Sunday."

Following this refreshments will be served and a royal good time is promised by the hosts. The affair will take place in the church basement.

MISS DONNAN'S LECTURE.

One of the most interesting and instructive of Miss Donnann's series of lectures on "Contemporary Literature" was the one which she gave Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Val Conaway delightfully entertained the members of the Donnann Class. Miss Donnann deals with the latest in literature and poetry and does so in her usual charming, but clear and concise fashion. "Vagrant Memories" a book by William Winters, which deals with characterizations of various prominent actresses and actors, was the first which she dealt with. William Warren, she mentioned briefly, then went to Edwin Booth, who by the way is the brother of John Wilkes Booth the assassin of Abraham Lincoln, and is the best Hamlet the world has ever seen. Being temperamentally fitted for this difficult part, he made an unprecedented success in it, as is illustrated by the fact that it was played for one hundred consecutive nights, the last year of the Civil War. Augustine Daily, whom Miss Donnann next mentioned, is well known for having brought out a number of famous actors and actresses. Unlike most actors, Henry Irving, whom the class was next asked to consider, was born of poor and obscure parents. In spite of it, however, he was a born prince, gracious and charming off and on the stage. It was this great actor, especially strong as Shylock, who helped dignify the stage and place it where it is today.

Julia Marlow, next in this interesting series, was born in the famous Lake District, which was the birth place of a number of noted writers, among them, Southey and Wordsworth. For a while, this talented actress lived in Cincinnati. Forbes Robinson, a man of sterling worth and wonderful integrity, is of Scotch parentage. Second only to Booth as Hamlet, he made a wonderful Othello and starred in "The Passing of 'Third Floor Back.'" A short review of "The Yellow Jacket," it's stage settings and peculiarities was next given. The Chinese customs, conventionalities and manners of the stage prevailed throughout.

"Ivory Apes and Peacocks" by James Huneker, which received it's name from a passage of scripture of second Corinthians, is the review of a number of well known poets and writers. Walt Whitman whose verse is for the poor, despised, and rejected is never read by them, but by scholars, for it is in the style for the later. Joseph Conard, born in Poland, lived the life of a seafarer. Settling later in England he dropped his mother tongue. Most representative of his writings are the short stories in his book "A Set of Six," which helped to give him the name of the "psychologist of the sea."

At the meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. F. G. Hackleman on February 12th, the poems of Edith Thomas, Sara Teasdale and Rupert Brooks will be studied. This will be the last of this delightful course of talks by Miss Donnann.

ROAD CASE JURY FAILS TO AGREE

The jury which heard the Alexander road case failed to reach a verdict and was discharged, after being out for several hours. The case went to the jury about five o'clock Saturday afternoon and Judge Sparks discharged the men at eleven o'clock. It is understood that the jury stood six for the plaintiff and six for the defendants and that there never was a chance for a verdict.

The trial of the case attracted considerable attention and the case was exceedingly hard fought, great feeling being shown on both sides. The case was the last one to be heard during the November term. There will be no court this week and the February term will open next Monday.

WILL MOVE COURT LIBRARY

Extensive improvements in the circuit court were under way today, the court having decided to move the library to a more convenient location. The room at the head of the stairs leading from the clerk's office will be converted into the court library. A force of carpenters was at work today knocking the walls out. The library as now located is unhandy for the court in that it is located away from the court room proper. The new location will be a decided improvement. Another reason for the change is that the roof over the old library is in a very bad condition and for the past few days the room has been filled with water.

William Young Says Troubles Vanished After He Took Tanlac

FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN

Declares Master Medicine is The Only Preparation That Gave Him Relief

Muncie, Ind., January, 31.—"I have found Tanlac to be A—No. 1," was the testimony regarding the Master Medicine given by William H. Young, a well known retired farmer, who lives on rural route No. 4, Middletown, Ind., twelve miles South of Muncie, a few days ago.

"I suffered from stomach trouble," Mr. Young continued, "and I often had pains in my back and frequently suffered from severe headaches. The pains usually came a few minutes after I had eaten, although, at times, I suffered equally severe pains before meals.

"The great results neighbors had gained through the use of Tanlac led me to try the medicine. I seem to be properly digesting my food now, and have improved generally to such an extent that I really feel like a new man. I've tried many preparations but Tanlac is the only one that has really given me relief from pains in my stomach. Naturally, I want to commend Tanlac very highly."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, and the like, and is a blood purifier and system builder extraordinary.

CREST OF FLOOD RESULTING FROM THREE INCHES RAINFALL REACHED

COMES NEAR BEING REPETITION OF 1913

Grave Concern Caused This Morning
by Rapid Rise of Flatrock
After Fall During Night

NO GREAT AMOUNT OF DAMAGE

Several Bridges Threaten to go Out,
But so Far Have Remained In-
tact—Many Leave Homes

The crest of the flood that hit
Rushville and Rush county following
a rainfall of over three inches was
believed to have been reached this afternoon. The rain which started late Thursday afternoon continued until this morning with only a few hours interruption. The result came near being a repetition of the flood of March 1913.

Flat Rock and all the small streams
in the county were out of their
banks. The river here in Rushville started rising Saturday night and it was not long until all of the lowlands were under water. For a time
last night the river showed a slight
falling, but this morning the water
again showed signs of doing a damage similar to that three years ago.
The rise of the river this morning between the hours of seven and noon was such as to cause grave concern. East Second street and East
First street were under water this afternoon, but the river was gradually lowering.

With colder weather promised, and
the rainfall stopped, the flood had apparently spent its force. There was no great amount of damage done,
excepting to merchants. There was hardly a cellar in the business section that was not flooded and many
of the merchants lost goods that were
stored in the basements. The Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company was operating cars this afternoon. Early this morning it was feared that the bridge over Flatrock,
east of the city would go out. The same was true of the C. I. & W. bridge. The traction company also
feared for the bridge over Blue river
at Morristown, but late today the
bridge still remained in place.

The smaller streams of the county
caused considerable damage. One
rural route carrier was unable to get
all the way over his route.

While the flood was bad enough it
did not come close to reaching the
high marks of the disastrous flood
of March 1913. This was true not only in this city, but in all parts of the county in the neighborhood of Raleigh and Nipp's mill the river
lacked two feet of reaching the mark of 1913.

In the southern part of the county
the water was eight feet lower than in 1913. At Milroy and other southern parts of the county some damage
was reported from the washing away
of fences, but no live stock was lost.
At the home of William Roth, near Moscow, the river arose to the first floor of his barn. He succeeded in getting the live stock to the second floor.

The greatest damage in Rushville
was caused by back water in the
sewer system. The river was so high that the water would not run from
the sewer and practically every
basement in the business district
was flooded. The water started eighteen months and one month. The

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Colder weather with general ceasing of
rains over practically all of Indiana
today offered the only hopeful
phase of a serious flood situation.
Practically all of the rivers and
streams were out of their banks and
gradually rising. Thousands of families were fleeing to higher grounds.
Heavy rains during the night at
many points caused the water to
continue rising steadily today.

At only one point, Muncie, were
the waters falling. Muncie reported
the White river falling at the rate of
one inch an hour.

The most serious condition reported was near Brazil where waters
were higher than in 1913. The El
river has flooded bottoms over two
miles wide there. Traffic on the C.
& E. I. were stopped by water flowing over the track. Bowling Green, Poland and Clay City were cut off by
the flood.

In this county it was predicted
that a rise of a few more inches
levies would be submerged, causing a
general flood and experts declared
there is enough water in sight to
cause a rise of at least 1.5 feet and possibly two feet. Hundreds of
families moved from Fall Creek
lowlands and the city kept scores
of men working on weak levies.

At Peru the Wabash was rising
today at a rate of two and three
inches an hour. The Mississinewa, where it empties into the Wabash,
was shooting out clear across the
later stream as it did during the disastrous 1913 flood, dashing
against the opposite bank. One foot
more and the light plant will be
flooded, throwing Peru in darkness.
At Huntington the Little River
and Wabash were higher than at any time since 1913 and still rising one inch an hour.

At Wabash the Wabash river was 18 inches higher today than at any time since 1913 and was rising
three inches an hour. A Big Four
bridge six miles north of there
went out, stopping traffic.

Terre Haute reported that the
traction line to Paris, Ill., was at
places under nine feet of water and
that passengers who transferred had
to walk a mile. Taylorville people were moving out. The worst flood in years was expected at Terre Haute.

Berlin, Jan. 31. (By Wire)—An
effective blockade of Germany is impossible, Admiral Von Holtzendorff,
chief of the German admiralty staff
declared today in an exclusive statement to the United Press.

England, he said, could in no circumstances stop commerce in the

and Germany. For weeks, he pointed out, no British submarine has had
any success in the Baltic. The Russian fleet is frozen in the harbors.

The only effect of a blockade by
the allies he stated would be upon
the women and children of Germany.
He hinted strongly that Germany is prepared for an action by Great Britain.

FORMERLY LIVED IN CENTER

Knightstown, Ind., Jan. 31.—
Samuel Reeves, 60 years old, is dead
and his wife is in a critical condition as a result of escaping gas
fumes from a base burner. When they failed to arise neighbors became alarmed and entered the house
Sunday morning at nine o'clock and
made the discovery. Mrs. Reeves
was found on the floor, leading to
the belief that she attempted to reach the door when overcome. She was still unconscious at a late hour
today.

Samuel Reeves was formerly a farmer of the Center neighborhood.
Together with his wife he moved to Knightstown about a year ago. He was widely known in Rush county.

TO GO BEFORE COUNTY BOARD

Institute at Orange Decides to Send
Five Representatives to Fay-

WANT HIGHWAY IMPROVED

Action Taken Following Address by
Oliver Cline—Corn Show a
Big Feature.

The joint institute of Noble township, Rush county and Orange township, Fayette county, held in Orange
last Saturday was believed to have been the most successful ever held
by this association. Following an address by Oliver Cline of Huntington on the subject "Good Roads and
their Maintenance" a committee was appointed to wait upon the board of
commissioners of Fayette county to see if the road between Orange and Glenwood could not be improved
permanently.

A lengthy discussion followed the address and the institute took a decided stand on the good roads ideas.
The committee of five will visit the Fayette county commissioners at an early date.

The address of the day were delivered by Mrs. Eva Rohbok of Wabash
and Mr. Cline. At the morning session Mrs. Rohbok spoke on "Character Building" and in the afternoon on the subject "Real Things in Life." At the morning session Mr. Cline spoke on the subject "Farm Life."

The new officers elected were as follows: John Fielding, president;
Marshall DeArmond, vice-president;
Vern Dunn, secretary and Erceel Bever, treasurer. The attendance numbered 225, which was considered
very good, because of the condition of the roads.

One of the big features of the institute was the corn show and domestic science exhibits. There were eight entries in the white corn class,
the first prize being awarded to
Frank Bever and the second Cory
Young. The yellow corn class attracted fourteen entries and first prize was won by Frank Bever. The contest for second place resulted in
a tie between Harry Arnold and B.
Hartman. Third prize went to Jesse
Murphy. There were three entries
in the class for any color corn and
was won by Marshall De Armond
with J. D. Henry, second and J. T.
Reed, third.

In the single ear event there were
fifteen entries and the event was won
by Kenneth Morris.

In the domestic science department
Miss Nellie McClanahan was awarded first prize for the best hem-stitched towel. Miss Mary McClanahan was second and Miss Mildred Utter was third. Miss Helen Houshens
was given first prize for the best

ANOTHER FLOOD PAPER.

The Daily Republican considered it fortunate to be able to furnish its subscribers with a
newspaper today, working as
the newspaper force did under
serious handicap caused by the
flood. Due to water continually seeping into the basement, it was impossible to print the usual size newspaper on the regular newspaper press. Most of the advertising was dispensed
with in order to furnish subscribers the usual run of the
day's news. Thanks to the valiant efforts of volunteer helpers, the Republican company's
newspaper stock was not damaged as badly as it might otherwise have been.

Election Commissioners Apportionment of Delegates For State
Conventions

BULL MOOSE GET ONLY FIVE

Necessary to Combine Several Townships in Order to Meet Requirements of Law

At a meeting this morning of the primary election commissioners, the
apportionment of the delegates of the
three parties to their respective state conventions was made. Under the apportionment the Republicans are entitled to twelve delegates; the
Democrats to 11 delegates and the Progressives to five delegates.

The apportionment of the Republican delegates to the state convention is based on the vote for secretary of state at the last election,
each precinct being entitled to one
delegate for every 200 votes cast.
The Democratic apportionment is
taken from the vote for United States senator. It was necessary to join some of the townships together
and give them a joint-delegate in order to conform with the law. Because of the small Progressive vote in Rush county this party's delegation is badly split, as many as four townships getting only one delegate.

The Republican apportionment is
as follows: Ripley, one delegate; Center and Washington, one delegate;
Posey and Jackson, one delegate;
Union and precinct No. 1 of Noble,
one delegate; Precinct No. 2 of Noble
and Richland, one delegate; Rush-
ville, five delegates; Walker and Orange, one delegate; Anderson, one delegate.

The Democratic delegation will
be made up as follows: Ripley and Jackson, one delegate; Walker, one
delegate; Walker, one delegate;
Washington, one delegate; Union and Noble, one delegate; Richland and
precinct No. 2 of Anderson, one delegate; Orange and precinct No. 1 of Anderson, one delegate; Posey, one delegate, and Rushville, three delegates.

The Progressive apportionment is
as follows: Ripley, Center and
Washington, one delegate; Posey,
Orange and Anderson, one delegate;
Union, Jackson, Noble and Walker,
one delegate, and Rushville, two delegates.

The Crippled Lonely Dollar

The advertising dollar that went out and came home crippled or alone missed the right road.

There is a safe way for the dollar—a road by which it will come home in company with other strong, lusty dollars.

That way is through the right use of daily newspaper advertising.

It is a road open alike to the national manufacturer and the local dealer.

It promises profit to both.

The advertising manager of The Daily Republican will be glad to tell you more about it.

Miss Susie Stocksclaeder of San Bernardino, Cal., Soon Acquires Property Worth $15,000.

(By United Press.)
San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 31.—Miss Susie Stocksclaeder, formerly of Rochester, N. Y., who wears overalls while at work is generally regarded here as the champion woman orange grower of America. She is 22 years old. A few years ago she started ranching with her five acres and nothing worth mentioning growing on it, but herself. Today that land and other acreage she acquired is producing a nursery and fruit stock worth $15,000 a year. She has 35,000 budded trees. Five thousand of them are citrus trees, ready for this spring's market. Ten thousand more of them are growing for a later market. When any of the mere men farmers are at a loss for information they go and ask "Susie." If they do what she says, usually they make money by it, they say. In the groves the girl wears overalls and a blue shirt, and does as strenuous manual labor as any "hand" on the place.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

By MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)
Sleeveless nighties, ankle short
Are the new alluring sort;
In them Sue's so sweet a sight
'Tis a shame to douse the light.
New York, Jan. 29.—The newest nighties are bound to be a source of vexation to those unfortunates whose vaccinations are thus laid bare either by the lack of sleeve or the lack of length. But who can deny that they are adorable? It takes little material but lots of art to evolve them and a little nerve and lots of charm to wear 'em. About the only way you can tell a nightie from a chemise these days and nighties is by inches. The chemise is cut just above the knee and the nightie just below it. It is true that most of the nighties actually blush for their own shortcomings and this beautiful blush pink dyes them whether they be of sheer batiste crepe de chine or the new wash satin. It takes lots of sibilants to describe them and but little else—sheer, short, sleeveless and simple will do the work and there you have it. Just to be consistently short in every respect the new nighties are also short waisted and the empire line is shown on all the smartest models. Narrow lace edgings outlining the armholes and low neck line; braid stitching in pink or blue, touches of smocking or embroidery in pink or blue are all the ornamentations permissible on these chaste little sleeping garments of the moment. They must be highly hygienic, allowing as they do for so much fresh air, but one shudders to think how soon these ducks of nighties will become an extinct species along with the Do Do Bird and other rara avis if they keep on dwindling away to nothing in this reckless way they have begun. As for caps to top the dishevelled matutinal locks of milady fair, they are getting reckless too. Time was when a boudoir cap meant a coquettish little morsel of ribbon and lace and net, or at most, pastel tinted bits of chiffon or crepe de chine. Nowadays one must be coiffed like a gypsy or one of the Russian ballet in vivid hued silks twisted in turban shapes, or wierd and oriental head dresses. One cunning model that turns you into a snow maid or a fluffy white kitten is made of white wash satin gathered up into a rosette on top of the head and topped with a fluffy ball of swansdown. Pluffs of swansdown alternating with a tiny French ribbon roses frame the face. These swansdown trimmed caps are also charming when combined with satin of delicate tints and are verily far more fascinating when up on my lady's head than when down on the swan's.

President of Water Supply Association Expects Record Crowd at Convention

GEN. GORGAS WILL SPEAK

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—Dr. J. N. Hurty, president of the Indiana Sanitary and Water Supply association, said today he believed a record attendance would greet the opening of the four day sessions of the association beginning February 3. The presence of Surgeon General William C. Gorgas, U. S. A., and surgeon General Rupert Blue, of United States public health service alone would draw persons from all parts of the state. General Gorgas, who by his sanitary work in the Panama zone made possible the Panama canal, will relate his story of the fight against disease in the zone.

AGENCIES COST $15,679.41

Ninety-Six Per Cent of Children Placed in Homes Are Doing Well or Fairly Well

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Jan. 31.—During the past twelve months agents of the board of state charities found homes in Indiana for 215 dependent children and learned through visits that 96.1 per cent of the children in homes were doing well or fairly well.

In a portion of the forthcoming annual report of the board made public today it was shown that 4,052 children were visited during the year and that of these 3,995 were found living in good surroundings and receiving proper care. The remaining 157 or 3.9 per cent, were found in unsatisfactory condition, says the report, "and proper action was taken in each case looking to the return of the child to the agency responsible for it."

Thirty-two other visits were made to addresses given without finding the children reported, says the report.

The field work of the department and its cost, including salaries of agents, amounted to $11,691.52 and the traveling expenses of children placed by agents amounted to $691.53, or a total cost of $12,383.05 for the field work of the agency. The total expenses of the state agency to $15,679.41.

Agents made 224 visits to various orphan asylums, five visits to county poor asylums and 234 visits to county officials. One hundred and eighty-three children formerly placed were transferred to other homes making a total of 398 placements and replacements. One hundred and eleven children were returned to counties.

SHOULD WEAR BIG SHOES

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—Tight shoes make bad tempers, according to a bulletin issued by the Young Woman's Christian Assn., here. An investigation by the employment bureau of the organization revealed that many girls lost their jobs because they got "peevish" at their employers, all on account of pinching boots jangling their nerves. The first requirement of a girl seeking work through the Y. W. C. A. here now is—wear big shoes.

Another Wonderful Recovery From Kidney Trouble

For nearly nine years I was a great sufferer from what my doctors said was kidney trouble and my blood was out of order; enduring all that time excruciating pain in my back and across my bowels. I was drawn down so that I could only walk with my hands on my knees. My doctor said he could do nothing for me. I tried many kinds of medicine, but all to no avail. A friend told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and as I had tried everything else that I heard of, I bought a bottle of Swamp-Root and it did wonders for me. I prize it higher than any other medicine and I shall recommend it to my friends. I wish to add right here that after using Swamp-Root for two months I began to straighten up and am now sound and well, and feel like I might live a long time yet to tell what your medicine has done for me.

Yours very truly,
T. C. CLAY,

Personally appeared before me this 19th day of December, A. D. 1914, T. C. Clay, who subscribed to the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

State Prison Officials Going Ahead With Arrangements For Execution of Kelly Robinson

Found Guilty of Killing John Roe— Asked to Borrow a Nickel And Killing Resulted

(By United Press.)
Michigan City, Jan. 31.—Preparations were going forward at the state prison here today for the electrocution soon after midnight tonight of Kelly Robinson, negro murdered sentenced in the Marion county criminal court.

Robinson was found guilty of murdering John F. Roe, a farmer living northeast of Indianapolis. The state's allegation was that Robinson called Roe to the door of the latter's home and asked for the loan of a nickel. When Roe refused to give him the money, Robinson shot and killed Roe.

The negro was the principal figure in a spectacular attempt to escape at Peru, Ind., while officers were taking him to the prison here. Robinson, though handcuffed, jumped head first through the window of the slowly moving train at Kokomo Junction. He was bruised by the fall and this, together with the handcuffs, handicapped him and he was easily captured.

Robinson was to have gone to the chair in August but the state supreme court granted a stay of execution until tomorrow.

At the murder trial in Indianapolis Robinson sought to prove an alibi. Mrs. Roe testified that she recognized Robinson as the man seen at her home the night Roe was killed. Roe, after being shot, is said to have uttered Robinson's name. Robinson formerly worked at a farm adjoining Roe's place.

backing up in the cellars at seven o'clock Sunday morning and all day yesterday pumps were kept going. It was only through hard work that the Daily Republican succeeded in saving a large supply of paper. The basement was freed from water at one time Sunday afternoon and then a new break occurred and the basement was soon flooded again. The work continued all night and was kept up today.

The Peoples National bank also had trouble with the water. The fires in the furnace were extinguished and pumps were kept going all day. The power plant supply heat for the court house was put out of commission. The water backed up to the furnace of the power plant.

By five o'clock Sunday afternoon many residents in South Harrison street and other streets near the river had moved their household goods. People residing in East Second street and Julian street, next to the race bank prepared to move out on a minute's notice. The Pinnell-Tompkins lumber company was unable to operate today. The floors of the company were under water.

The downpour of rain ceased about four o'clock Sunday afternoon and this tended to encourage the people whose homes were in danger. The rain, however started again Sunday night and continued until past midnight. One of the peculiar features was that at one gage the water went down instead of rising. A half-inch drop was recorded at midnight and this despite the fact that it was raining exceedingly hard.

Hodges branch was on a rampage similar to the river, but no damage was done in the northwestern part of the city. The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction line's tracks in West Seventh street were under water Sunday morning, but the water receded by afternoon. The water

Cheapest Remedy Made at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 Cents

When in need of a remedy for the treatment of Bronchial Affections, such as Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Stabborn Coughs, Colds or Hoarseness, don't simply ask the druggist for a "Cough Medicine" but get the best. Tell him to give you Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant, instead of being induced into buying something else purely on the strength of some testimonials or the exaggerated claims of the manufacturer. The same "Money Back" guarantee goes with every bottle of this remedy sold by Fox Bros. as does with Dr. Schiffmann's famous Asthmador and your money will be returned, if it does not give perfect satisfaction; in fact even more, if it is not found the best remedy ever used for these affections. In buying this new remedy, besides securing the guarantee these druggists give, it will likewise be found the most economical to use, for the reason that one bottle (50 cents' worth) makes a full pint (128 teaspoonful) of the most excellent cough medicine, after being mixed at home with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water. The bottle will probably, therefore, be sufficient for a whole family's supply the entire winter, while the same quantity of the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds of medicine could cost between $2 and $3. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants, contains absolutely no chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic or injurious drugs as do most cough remedies, and it can therefore be given to children with perfect safety. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. Absolutely no risk whatever in buying this remedy under the above positive guarantee. R. J. Schiffmann, Prop., St. Paul, Minn.

When Rushville Citizens Show a Way There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Rushville citizen says:

Mrs. Lizzie Borem, 840 W. 9th street, Rushville, says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. The kidney secretions were very annoying and the trouble kept getting worse. The kidney secretions were very painful in passage and scanty. Doctors said it was gravel, but none of them ever did me any good. A short time ago I heard of how someone else was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wolcott's Drug Store. They helped me and I kept on using them. I have taken four boxes so far and the pain has left and I feel a great deal better. I believe that Doan's Kidney Pills will cure me."

Tanlac

Declares Master Medicine is The Only Preparation That Gave Him Relief

Muncie, Ind., January, 31.—"I have found Tanlac to be A—No. 1," was the testimony regarding the Master Medicine given by William H. Young, a well known retired farmer, who lives on rural route No. 4. Middletown, Ind., twelve miles South of Muncie, a few days ago.

"I suffered from stomach trouble," Mr. Young continued, "and I often had pains in my back and frequently suffered from severe headaches. The pains usually came a few minutes after I had eaten, although, at times, I suffered equally severe pains before meals.

"The great results neighbors had gained through the use of Tanlac led me to try the medicine. I seem to be properly digesting my food now, and have improved generally to such an extent that I really feel like a new man. I've tried many preparations but Tanlac is the only one that has really given me relief from pains in my stomach. Naturally, I want to commend Tanlac very highly."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, and the like, and is a blood purifier and system builder extraordinary.

MISS DONNAN'S LECTURE.

One of the most interesting and instructive of Miss Donnan's series of lectures on "Contemporary Literature" was the one which she gave Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Val Conaway delightfully entertained the members of the Donnan Class. Miss Donnan deals with the latest in literature and poetry and does so in her usual charming, but clear and concise fashion. "Vagant Memories" a book by William Winters, which deals with characterizations of various prominent actresses and actors, was the first which she dealt with. William Warren, she mentioned briefly, then went to Edwin Booth, who by the way is the brother of John Wilkes Booth the assassin of Abraham Lincoln, and is the best Hamlet the world has ever seen. Being temperamentally fitted for this difficult part, he made an unprecedented success in it, as is illustrated by the fact that it was played for one hundred consecutive nights, the last year of the Civil War. Augustine Daily, whom Miss Donnan next mentioned, is well known for having brought out a number of famous actors and actresses. Unlike most actors, Henry Irving, whom the class was next asked to consider, was born of poor and obscure parents. In spite of it, however, he was a born prince, gracious and charming off and on the stage. It was this great actor, especially strong as Shylock, who helped dignify the stage and place it where it is today.

Julia Marlow, next in this interesting series, was born in the famous Lake District, which was the birth place of a number of noted writers, among them, Southey and Wordsworth. For a while, this talented actress lived in Cincinnati. Forbes Robinson, a man of sterling worth and wonderful integrity, is of Scotch parentage. Second only to Booth as Hamlet, he made a wonderful Othello and starred in "The Passing of 'Third Floor Back.'" A short review of "The Yellow Jacket," its stage settings and peculiarities was next given. The Chinese customs conventionalities and manners of the stage prevailed throughout.

"Ivory Apes and Peacocks" by James Huneker, which received its name from a passage of scripture of second Corinthians, is the review of a number of well known poets and writers. Walt Whitman whose verse is for the poor, despised, and rejected is never read by them, but by scholars, for it is in the style for the later. Joseph Conrad, born in Poland, lived the life of a seafarer. Settling later in England he dropped his mother tongue. Most representative of his writings are the short stories in his book "A Set of Six," which helped to give him the name of the "psychologist of the sea."

At the meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. F. G. Hackleman on February 12th, the poems of Edith Thomas, Sara Teasdale and Rupert Brooks will be studied. This will be the last of this delightful course of talks by Miss Donnan.

The jury which heard the Alexander road case failed to reach a verdict and was discharged, after being out for several hours. It is understood that the jury stood six for the plaintiff and six for the defendants and that there never was a chance for a verdict.

The trial of the case attracted considerable attention and the case was exceedingly hard fought, great feeling being shown on both sides. The case was the last one to be heard during the November term. There will be no court this week and the February term will open next Monday.

Extensive improvements in the circuit court were under way today, the court having decided to move the library to a more convenient location. The room at the head of the stairs leading from the clerk's office will be converted into the court library. A force of carpenters was at work today knocking the walls out. The library as now located is unhandy for the court in that it is located away from the court room proper. The new location will be a decided improvement. Another reason for the change is that the roof over the old library is in a very bad condition and for the past few days the room has been filled with water.
